Our clients are involved in the entire spectrum of the Agri-Real Estate Industry. From production agricultural farming, citrus, ranching, recreational and trophy properties, to Florida's natural resources and conservation efforts. Our properties showcase dense pine forests, oak hammocks, producing farms, ranches and groves, and places where diverse habitats of Florida's native species live and thrive. This is the beauty of Florida, it's authentic vibe – land that is harvested, hunted, and a place called home.

GROWING YOUR ASSETS

Land Investment and Advisory.

Without proper real estate experience and knowledge, the Florida real estate industry can be daunting to navigate. We assist our clients in navigating current market conditions, economic cycles, and market specific nuances. There is so much more that goes into the sale process than finding a property, marketing it, placing it under contract, and closing. The intricacies of each transaction are unique, and many times complicated, to that property alone. With our experience, market knowledge and track-record, we can provide unmatched services in positioning our clients for success through advisory.

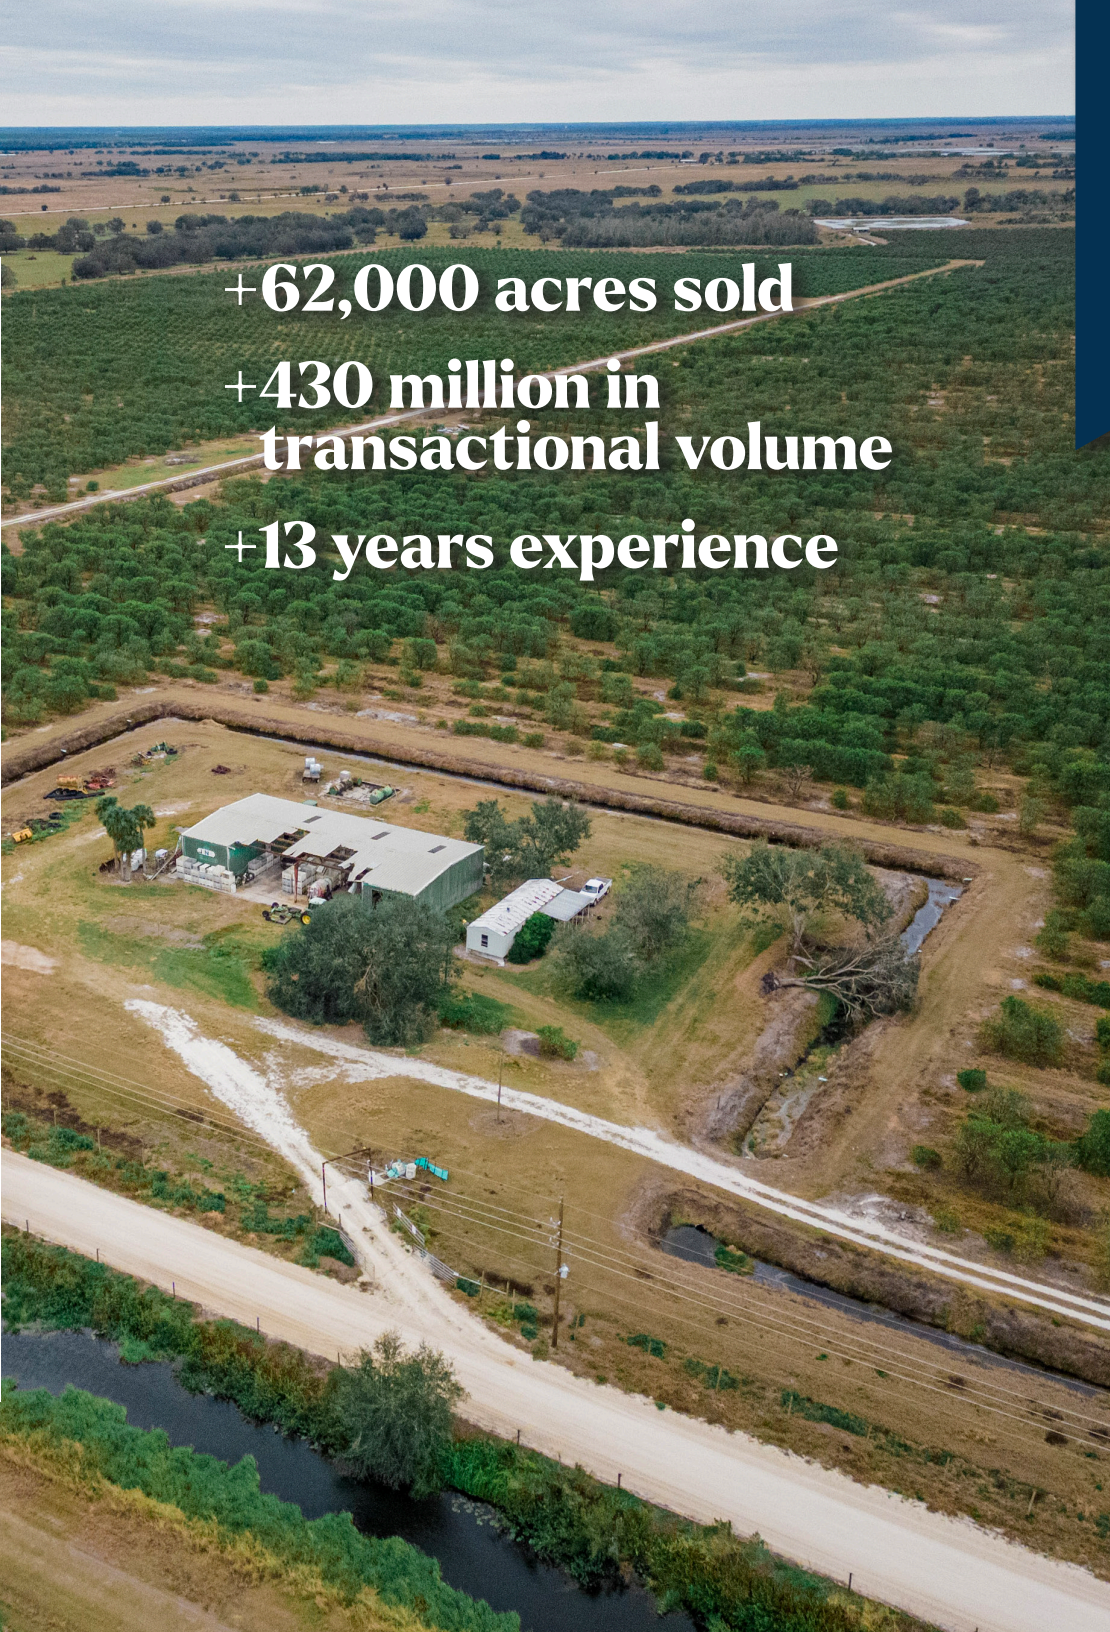

MoonBeam Land Company, Inc. has a history of placing clients into properties with the intent for land appreciation. We can assist in identifying land, and advising on value-add entitlements and uses, all in an effort to increase the value of the asset through time. We call it Transitional Land Investments. The market is always changing, and we have a pulse on what is happening. Our team can assist you in navigating your investment options.

PIONEERS IN FLORIDA AGRICULTURE

A Legacy 200 Years Strong.

The MoonBeam legacy was born over 200 years ago when the Evans ancestors moved to North Central Florida. Settling among the Citrus groves and celery fields of Oviedo, John Evan's great-grandfather, (B.F. Wheeler) acquired and managed one of the largest citrus, celery, packing, and fertilizer plant portfolios in the state of Florida. His dedication to the business and passion for the land set the tone for a footprint of Florida land stewards. Over their seven generations of Florida heritage, they have collectively owned more than 3,000 acres of citrus groves, a citrus packing house, ranches, farms, and blueberry operations, transitioning into commercial land and real estate holdings throughout the state.
